

HOW MANY EMPLOYEES STEAL?

Have you ever wondered how widespread employee theft has become? Check out the statistics below to see if the issue is far better-or far worse-than you imagined.

The U.S. Chamber of Commerce estimates that 75 percent of all employees steal from their employers.

$\frac{3}{4}$  of employees have stolen at least once

HALF steal repeatedly

Almost one in four millennials said they would take from an employer if it positively benefited them.

In comparison to Baby Boomers (5%) and Gen X (12%), Millennials (23%) were most likely to steal data from their employers

GEN X

MILLENNIALS

BABY BOOMERS

ROI
4 WEEKS

Crossmatch customers deploying our biometric solutions for POS typically see theft significantly reduced within the first 4 weeks.